

What's changing

New supported bargaining agreements

Secure Jobs Better Pay information pack

From 6 June 2023, the supported bargaining stream will replace the current low-paid bargaining arrangements.

These changes are due to amendments to the Fair Work legislation made by the Secure Jobs Better Pay Act 2022. The supported bargaining stream is designed to assist and encourage employers and their employees who may, for various reasons, find it difficult to bargain at a single-enterprise level.

New supported bargaining agreements

Find out about supported bargaining authorisations, including how to apply for and make an authorisation, restrictions on making an authorisation, and adding or removing employers from an authorisation.

- Go to: New supported bargaining agreements

Assistance to make a multi-enterprise agreement

Find out how the Commission can help parties make a cooperative workplace agreement.

- Go to: Assistance to make a multi-enterprise agreement

Adding employers and their employees to a supported bargaining agreement

Find out how to vary a supported bargaining agreement to add employers and their employees to the agreement's coverage.

- Go to: Adding employers and their employees to a supported bargaining agreement

Removing an employer and their employees from multi-enterprise agreements

Find out about how multi-enterprise agreements can be varied to remove employers and their employees.

- Go to: Removing an employer and employees from multi-enterprise agreements

Changes to making agreements

Find out about changes to agreement making including changes to genuine agreement, the better off over all test (the BOOT) and multi-enterprise agreements.

- Go to: Changes to making agreements

Other Secure Jobs Better Pay changes

Find out about how the Secure Jobs Better Pay Act is changing laws relevant to our work, including changes to bargaining and agreement making, as well as to sexual harassment cases, flexible work disputes, and the regulation of registered organisations.

- Go to: Secure Jobs Better Pay Act – what’s changing

Keep up to date

- Follow us – Follow the Commission on LinkedIn
- Subscribe – Subscribe to our Announcements email update service