Good morning

I have referred your email to the Vice President.

Video conferencing is generally only made available for parties to make submissions where they are unable to attend the Commission in the state a matter is being heard.

Interested parties wishing to observe proceedings by way of video conference are invited to make a formal request, accompanied by reasons for their request, for consideration by the Full Bench.

The Vice President has indicated that the Full Bench will be ordering transcript for these proceedings, which means a copy will be made available to parties and uploaded to the Commission's website. The standard working time for these transcripts is 5 working days from the day of proceedings.

If an interested party wishes to make alternate arrangements, including for expedited transcription, they may complete the attached transcript order form and forward it to the Commission's transcript service providers at fwcorders@dtiglobal.com. Further inquiries regarding transcription should also be directed to this address.

Dear Richard

Could you please confirm whether a video-link to Sydney would be free for interested parties? Could you also please let me know when transcripts of the hearing will be available to interested parties? The Fair Work Commission's website states that transcripts are available 3 days after the hearing. Does this mean that transcripts are typically uploaded onto the website for anyone from the public to access for free 3 days after the hearing concludes? Is it possible for interested parties to obtain a copy of the transcript any earlier?

Your advice on these matters would be much appreciated.

Kind regards

Bronwyn
