Dear Ms Noakes,
I refer to your email below.

The Daily Mail and any other party wishing to respond to the materials which were filed by the MEAA after the deadline 26 April 2019 shall have until 26 July 2019 to do so.

The mention & directions in this matter will be relisted for 9am on Wednesday 31 July 2019. An amended notice of listing will be issued in due course.

Kind regards,

Ingrid Stear

Dear Associate,

We act for Dailymail.com Australia.

Our client proposes to file evidence and submissions in this matter opposing the changes proposed by the MEAA.

However, it has come to our attention that the MEAA has now filed further evidence in support of its claims. This further evidence has been filed almost eight weeks after the MEAA was required to file its materials, and one week prior to the deadline for materials by those opposing the MEAA's claims. One of the filed statements deals directly with matters that our client will need to consider, as it relates to 'online only' publications and opposing the changes sought by the MEAA to the Journalists Published Media Award 2010 in relation to such publications.

In the circumstances, we respectfully request an extension of at least four weeks, until 5 pm on 26 July 2019. Such an extension will not prejudice the MEAA, nor impact the hearing dates in this matter.

Representatives of the MEAA and other interested employer parties are copied on this email.

Kind regards,

Philippa
